

The data presented within this document provides an overview of both electricity generation and GO statistics within an EECS area context. Only EECS GOs are considered. Data is sourced from various third parties including national registries, the AIB and ento-e. Our Environmental Markets team cannot guarantee the completeness and accuracy of all data and assumes no liability in this respect. Hydro pump-storage generation is omitted from relevant calculations. *Data presented reflects information available at the time of document release. Incomplete ento-e production data at date of document issuance may cause the volume of certificates issued to be disproportionate, as a percentage of generation. EnergyOrigins.net
